All amendments as are issued by PFRDA/RBI/ SEBI or FIU/ or Government of India will form an integral part of this policy.

The purpose of the Anti-Money Laundering Policy (“AML Policy”) is to prevent any involvement by our Company in money laundering activity even where the involvement may be unintentional. It requires our directors, senior managements and other employees and those who work with us to recognize questionable financial transactions and to take steps to conduct appropriate additional due diligence. In case of any ambiguity under this policy, SBIPFPL shall follow the PMLA, PFRDA or other applicable laws in this regard.

5. OBJECTIVES:

The objective of guidelines is to:

- a) Create awareness and provide clarity on Know Your Customer (KYC) standards and AML measures.
- b) Frame work for obligations of SBIPFPL under PMLA.
- c) To facilitate employees at all levels including persons associated with SBIPFPL to align their operations with best practices followed by other Point of Presence Intermediaries/ Pension Fund Industry.
- d) To assist law enforcement agencies in their effort to investigate and track money launderers.

6. GUIDANCE ON MONEY LAUNDERING:

- a) The phrase “money laundering” is generally understood to mean any act or attempted act to conceal or disguise the true origin and ownership of illegally obtained proceeds so that they appear to have originated from legitimate sources thereby avoiding prosecution, conviction and confiscation of the illegal proceeds. Money laundering can be used by terrorist organizations, tax evaders, smugglers, by those engaged in bribery, or anyone who receives money for illegal activities or through illegal means. Countering money laundering is of critical importance as it ensures that illegal funds do not remain hidden and do not get integrated into legal business and consequently into the legal economy.
- b) The Government of India has enacted the PMLA, 2002 and issued rules and regulations thereunder (“PMLA”) for preventing money laundering and countering the financing of terrorism in India, with effect from July 1, 2005. The PMLA defines the offence of money laundering as “Whosoever directly or indirectly attempts to indulge or knowingly assists or knowingly is a party or is actually involved in any process or activity connected with the proceeds of crime and projecting it as untainted property shall be guilty of offence of money laundering."

The term 'proceeds of crime' has been defined under Section 2(u) of the PMLA as "any property derived or obtained, directly or indirectly, by any person as a result of criminal activity relating to a scheduled offence or the value of any such property." The definition of 'proceeds of crime' also implies that assets can be tainted by conversion. Therefore, if the 'proceeds of crime' are utilized to purchase another asset, by conversion, that asset could also be considered to be a 'proceed of crime' replacing the tainted money. Under the provisions of the PMLA, proceeds of crime can be attached in the possession of any person, whether or not such person was involved in the offence of money laundering.

c) Money laundering usually consists of 3 (three) steps:

- i) Placement: This is the initial stage and during this stage, the money generated from illegal /criminal activity such as sale of drugs, illegal firearms, etc. is disposed of. Funds are deposited into financial institutions or converted into negotiable instruments such as money orders or traveller's cheques. For example, cash received by a drug smuggler can be taken to a bank and changed into a money order or traveller's cheque.
- ii) Layering: In this stage, funds are moved into other accounts in an effort to hide their origin and separate illegally obtained assets or funds from their original source. This is achieved by creating layers of transactions, by moving the illicit funds between accounts, between businesses, and by buying and selling assets on a local and international basis until the original source of the money is virtually untraceable. Thus, a trail of unusually complex transactions is created to disguise the original source of funds and thereby make it appear legitimate. For example, money can be moved into and out of various offshore bank accounts through electronic funds transfers.
- iii) Integration: Once the illegitimate money is successfully integrated into the financial system, these illicit funds are reintroduced into the economy and financial system and often used to purchase legitimate assets, fund legitimate businesses, or conduct other criminal activity. The transactions are made in such a manner so as to appear as being made out of legitimate funds.

Having identified these stages of the money laundering process, financial institutions need to adopt procedures to guard against and report suspicious transactions that occur at any stage.

The ability to launder the proceeds of criminal activity through the financial systems of the world is vital to the success of criminal operations, and therefore India, as one of the world's emerging financial markets, has a vital role to play in combating money laundering. In case Banks, Financial Institutions, Mutual Funds, Pension Funds and Intermediaries becoming involved in money laundering offences, they can face prosecution under PMLA leading to reputation and other risks.

Customers would feel better protected if Pension Funds are able to protect themselves against criminal activity. Failure to prevent the laundering of the proceeds of crime permits criminals to benefit from their actions, thus making crime an attractive proposition. Adherence to AML policies and procedures should also enhance the fraud prevention measures that pension funds take to protect themselves and their genuine customers from losses.

7. SBIPFPL Obligations under PMLA, 2002 :

Section 12 under Chapter IV places certain obligations on the REs which are as follows:

12. The AML/CFT Architecture: Three Lines of Defence

To create a robust AML/CFT architecture and manage the wide range of risks that it faces from Money Launderers and Terrorist Financing. The “Three Lines of Defence” is a widely used approach for the creation of a strong and efficient AML/CFT infrastructure and works as under:

a) The First Line of Defence:

As the first line of defence, operational managers own and manage risks. They are also responsible for implementing corrective actions to address process and control deficiencies.

The Operational Management through managerial and supervisory controls, ensures the implementation of internal policies and conduct of business activities in accordance with the approved systems & procedures. The control breakdowns whenever they occur, are managed through laid down procedures and reported to the management.

Some of the principal functions of the operational units which make it a first line of defence from the AML/CFT perspective are as under:

- To conduct due diligence at the time of Customer on-boarding as prescribed in the operational manual and by the regulator.
- Following the Customer Due Diligence procedure impeccably.
- Ensuring that the identity of the customer does not match with any person or entity, whose name appears in the sanction’s lists circulated by the regulators.
- Understanding the customer’s source of funds, the line of activity and customer profile.
- Identifying beneficial ownership in the applicable cases and conducting due diligence on the beneficial owners as required.

b) The Second Line of Defence:

Compliance Officer and Principal Officer is the second line of defence in the AML/CFT architecture of the Company. It establishes various AML/ CFT risk management and compliance functions to help build and monitor the first line-of-defence controls.

Typically, while performing its assigned duties towards fulfilment of the Company obligations under PMLA, 2002, the AML/CFT acts as the second line of defence by way of:

- Identification of all the relevant AML/CFT risk factors, assessment of the overall risk faced by the Company and determining the type of mitigation to be applied.
- Establishing a system of name screening to ensure that the Company does not on-board any person or entity whose identity matches with any person or entity in the Negative Lists. Also, conducting periodic exercises to purge out any customer whose name figures in the negative lists subsequent to the on-boarding process.

- Filing the Suspicious Transactions Reports (STRs) and other mandatory reports with FIU-IND.
- Identifying the gaps in controls if any, and taking appropriate action for plugging the same. Coordinating with the concerned departments/stakeholders for prompt implementation of the systems and procedures.
- Reporting major AML/CFT failures/exceptions to the Designated Director for appropriate action.

Internal Auditors to provide the Board and Senior Management with comprehensive assurance based on the highest level of independence and objectivity within the Company.

This is achieved through an assessment of effectiveness of governance, risk management, and internal controls, including the way the first and second lines of defence achieve risk management and control objectives.

Some of the features of the AML/CFT architecture and the quality of controls in place, on which the effectiveness of the Company AML/CFT systems and procedures are evaluated by the Internal Auditors, may be as under:

- Robustness of the account opening procedure for NPS schemes.
- Adherence to Customer Acceptance and Customer Identification Procedures.

B) POLICY FOR ACCEPTANCE OF CLIENTS

a) Know Your Customer (KYC)

i). Customer Acceptance Policy : SBIPFPL shall not accept any application for subscription unless it is accompanied with valid KYC acknowledgement from KRA ,C-KYC & Physical KYC. SEBI required all the market intermediaries to update/upload KYC details of the new customer/investors (not KYC-KRA compliant) on CERSAI's online platform. CERSAI is a centralized repository of KYC records of customers/investors in the financial sector with uniform KYC norms and inter-usability of the KYC records across the sector with an objective to reduce the burden of producing KYC documents and getting those verified every time when the customer/investors creates a new relationship with a financial entity. Central KYC (CKYC) will store all the customer/investor information at one central server that is accessible to all the financial institutions. After opening a KYC account under the CKYC, customer/investor will get a 14-digit identification number ("KYC Number") and that the same may be quoted by the investor wanting to invest in NPS Schemes

b) Risk Based Approach

It is generally recognized that certain clients may be of a higher or lower risk category depending on the circumstances such as the subscriber's background, type of business relationship or transaction etc. As such, each of the subscriber's due diligence measures shall be applied on a risk sensitive basis. The basic principle enshrined in this approach is that an enhanced client due diligence process for higher risk categories of subscriber's shall be adopted. Conversely, a simplified subscriber's due diligence process may be adopted for lower risk categories of clients. In line with the risk-based approach, the type and amount of identification information and documents that registered intermediaries shall obtain necessarily depend on the risk category of a particular subscriber's.

Further, low risk provisions shall not apply when there are suspicion of ML/FT or when other factors give rise to a belief that the customer does not in fact pose a low risk. The level of Money Laundering risks that the Fund is potentially exposed to by an investor relationship largely depends on a few key factors. These are broadly:

- Transaction pattern of the subscriber's (complexity of transactions if any)
- Status of subscriber's (resident individual)
- Value of investment with the Fund
- Location of the subscriber's domicile
- Subscriber's business or profession
- Manner of remittance of funds
- Dubious background of subscriber's (based on publicly available information)

c) Risk Assessment

SBIPFPL shall carry out risk assessment to identify, assess and take effective measures to mitigate its money laundering and terrorist financing risk with respect to its subscriber's, countries or geographical areas, nature and volume of transactions, payment methods used by clients, etc. The risk assessment shall also take into account any country specific information pertaining to India that is circulated by the Government of India and PFRDA from time to time, as well as, the updated list of individuals and entities who are subjected to sanction measures as required under the various United Nations' Security Council Resolutions (these can be accessed at http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1267/aq_sanctions_list.shtml and <http://www.un.org/sc/committees/1988/list.shtml>).

The risk assessment carried out shall consider all the relevant risk factors before determining the level of overall risk (viz, high, medium or low) and the appropriate level and type of mitigation to be applied. The assessment shall be documented, updated regularly and made available to competent authorities and self-regulating bodies, as and when required.

d) Subscriber's of Special Category:

There are certain categories of investors, including high risk clients and PEPs, who are considered as Clients of Special Category (CSC) as per PMLA, 2002. These investors may be subjected to enhanced due diligence as determined by the SBIPFPL, based on the risk profile of the investor. Irrespective of the investment amount, some investors may be further treated as CSCs and subjected to enhanced due diligence, if required. The list of investors who fall in this category are as mentioned below:

- a. High Net-worth clients.
- b. Politically Exposed Persons (PEP) and their close relatives.
- c. Current / Former Heads of State, current or former senior high profile politicians and connected persons.
- d. Clients in high risk states.
- e. Subscriber's with dubious reputation as per public information available

The above mentioned list is only illustrative and SBIPFPL may exercise independent judgement to ascertain whether any other set of clients shall be classified as CSC or not.

The PMLA Amendment Rules, 2009 states that the transactions of clients who are suspected to be engaged in “predicate offences” have to be reported as suspicious irrespective of the value of transactions. The list of such predicate offences are available in the annual report of the FIU-IND.
